

383

For and about employees of the Xerox home office September 25, 1984

THE First Edition

Watercolor by Dick MacLeod (construction)

If you think this is a tranquil country retreat, look again. It's literally right across the street from where you work. What's more, millions of dollars of business will be transacted here this year! For details, see page two.